Community connections can be invaluable when natural disasters occur. Let's take part in disaster drills in our neighborhoods.

Outside of times of emergency, local area events and activities are welcoming, and likely happy to accept volunteers!

Check if you or your family are harmed.

Turn off all heat sources.

Wear shoes to avoid injuries due to broken glass.

Make sure your emergency kit is on hand.

Help each other in your neighborhood.

Don't use an elevator in escaping from a building. Use stairs.

Even after the shaking stops, please beware of aftershocks.

Find evacuation centers in your neighborhood

Evacuation centers are for people who have lost their homes and whose homes are dangerous to live in when natural disasters occur.

Anyone can go to an evacuation center and help each other; Japanese and non-Japanese residents and tourists alike.

Please check and follow the evacuation center's rules.
